

In Home Behavior Specialist

CCDS is seeking an In Home Behavior Specialist to work with families and individuals with developmental disabilities through the Family Support Services grant program. It is a part time position of approximately 5 hours weekly.

This position is responsible for in-home behavioral services such as, testing, evaluation, consultation, intervention, and development of behavioral management plans and goals as required by the needs of the individual being served. The person in this role will also provide education and training to family members regarding behavioral strategies.

This position requires a Master's Degree in Psychology, Special Education, or Social Work and at least one year experience working with an individual(s) with a developmental disability. A valid New York State driver's license and reliable transportation are required. Candidates must be capable of performing all physical requirements of the position. Ability to generate electronic reports and documents is required; Internet access is also necessary. Interested candidates should send a letter of interest and current resume to Olivia Fagan in Human Resources; 1 Park Place, Suite 200, Albany NY 12205 or email

oliviaf@ccdservices.org

EOE